By NEIL McNEIL
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — Congressional investigators disclosed today that an effort was made to list the aid of Vice President Richard M. Nixon on behalf of an unsuccessful applicant for a hotly disputed Miami TV channel.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) produced correspondence showing the effort was made in October, 1957, on behalf of Col. A. Frank Katzenline, former mayor of Miami Beach, by Dawney Rice, former chief counsel of the SVA and et WASHINGTON (UP) — House investigators today said Frank Katzenline for questioning about his claim Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower's brother-in-law figured in the award of a Miami television channel to National Airlines.

Katzenline, a Miami radio station owner and unsuccessful applicant for the channel, has charged in an affidavit that FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack "pledged" his vote to the airline before the Federal Communications Commission acted in the contested Channel 10 case.

Mack was waiting to testify along with Coral Gables, Fla., attorney Thurman A. Whiteside, who Katzenline said had obtained Mack's pledge, also is accused of giving the commissioner $2,650.

The House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight was expected to continue on Page Three

Tunisia to Ask Action From UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) — Tunisia threatened today to bring its dispute with France back to the U.N. Security Council unless U.S.-British settlement efforts include the question of the Algerian war.

The 11-nation council adjourned indefinitely late Tuesday without action after a 63-minute session to await the outcome of the offer of Anglo-American "good offices" in settling the dispute.

Tunisian Ambassador Mongi Slim said he would demand a new and urgent meeting of the council if "the good offices seem not to be yielding good results" or if "differences independent to the will of my government might arise."

The differences already were arising, French Ambassador Guillaume Georges Pictet told newsmen. The Algerian question was "outside the scope" of the good offices effort. He said "it is not a question of the overflow of the Algerian war into Tunisia. It is the other way around—the question of the overflow of Tunisian activities into Algeria."

Diplomats feared this difference in interpretation of the ground covered by the "conciliation" effort would wreck the American and British effort.

There still was no formal announcement where the Anglo-American conciliation efforts with France and Tunisia would take place. One suggestion was Geneva or some such neutral capital. Recently there has been a series of talks in Washington, London, Paris, and Tunis.

A Paris dispatch said France had suggested an unnamed Franco-Tunisian commission to police the Algerian-Tunisian border as a means of solving the dispute under the Anglo-American offer. The commission would be under a neutral, possibly someone designated by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Expelled Negro Going to New York School

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Minnie Jean Brown, the Negro girl expelled from integrated Central High School, will begin classes next Monday at New Lincoln High School in New York City.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the state chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said today the girl was invited to attend the school by its "headmaster."

The Brown girl will stay with friends of the Bates.

The Little Rock School Board approved expulsion of the girl Monday night. It was recommended by Superintendent Virgil T. Blossom, who said in a letter to the girl's mother the 16-year-old violated a promise not to retaliate when harassed by white students.

Blossom suspended the girl for two weeks after she was involved in a purse throwing incident with a white girl and after a white boy poured soup on the Brown girl in the school cafeteria.

The Arkansas Military District said Tuesday the disposition of federalized National Guard at school, segregated under "paratroopers" bayonets last fall, has been changed, but wouldn't explain what was meant. The District said 25 to 30 troops are assigned to the school.

Search Started for 24 Missing Italian Seamen

NORFOLK, Va. (UP) — Seven ships searched storm-whipped waters off the North Carolina coast today for 24 Italian seamen lost when they were dumped from a lifeboat within a few feet of safety.

The Coast Guard at Norfolk said the American liner President Adams, one of the search ships, radioed that it had sighted two bodies but had not reported their recovery. The Adams messaged earlier today the missing crewmen were spilled from the lifeboat before the ship could haul them aboard.

Three members of the Italian crew were rescued Tuesday night. The one vessel Bonitas settled under the surface at 1:34 a.m., the Coast Guard said after receiving messages from the scene this morning. At noon the sea temperature was 65 degrees, which the Coast Guard called "the only encouraging thing in the search."

Three Navy destroyer escorts a Coast Guard cutter and a merchant ship were also in the area. Continued on Page Three

'Perri Best Disney Film of Wildlife

Film Review
Greatest of all Walt Disney's Wildlife films is "Perri," at Hope's Saenger theater through Thursday night, and seen in its entirety by this writer at the opening Tuesday.

This is no cartoon, believe me. It is the work of Hollywood's finest cameramen, recording on magnificent color film the life-and-death struggle of all the creatures of the Animal Kingdom.

Basically it is the story of Perri, a young female squirrel orphaned by the villain, a prowling marten, and left to shift for herself in the wilderness. Perri searches for food and a mate — and finds both after a breath-taking skirmish with death.

The marten is the biggest villain to hit the motion picture screen since the days of the old Pearl White and "The Clinging Vine and the Rock."

But the camera takes you into the marten's den and shows you her side of the story, too. She's a mother with a parcel of youngsters to feed — and this is the film's great theme: That every creature in the Animal Kingdom must get its food where it finds it, and must fight, run, or die.

"Perri" is the story of many wildlife families, each searching, fighting, running and winning or losing the gamble of life. In these thrilling adventures appear the wildcat, fox, raccoon, snowshoe rabbit, deer, skunk, flying squirrel, porcupine, the predatory owl, and the savage hawk.

One of the greatest sequences is a three-cornered fight between a squirrel, a weasel and a wildcat—the cat nails the weasel, and the squirrel escapes.

This "Perri," greatest of all wild animal stories and every human creature should see it, for the truth that is found in the Animal Kingdom will shed light on the troubled times in which the world's people find themselves now. — A. H. Washburn.

Rev. J. W. Story Is a Kiwanis Speaker

The Rev. J. W. Story of Hope was guest speaker before Hope Kiwanis club yesterday and challenged the club to bring God into their lives and homes as a formula for happier living and business success.

The Rev. Mr. Story was formerly a railroad mechanic. While employed fulltime with his railway profession he also found time for considerable missionary work with Mexicans and other underprivileged people.

Following his retirement he moved to his native area, Hope, and now devotes full time to missionary work — not for a livelihood — but for the good that may be accomplished. He has had a part in rehabilitating several churches in the Hope area that had literally been abandoned.

Guests of the club: Charles Garret of Arkadelphia; Russ Moberg, Newt Nelson, Jim Nelson, Jack Rowe and W. O. Woosely, all of Prescott.

Rev. Keeley Speaks Tonight at 7:30

Special Washington's Birthday Sale Planned by Merchants of Hope on Saturday, Feb. 22

At its annual meeting last month, Hope Retail Merchants voted to sponsor a Citywide sale event to be held Saturday, February 22, and named it "George Washington's Birthday Event."

Over 20 merchants will participate in the one-day event in which special values on goods will be offered to the public. In addition to special values, Saturday is a holiday with free parking.

A. L. Heffen Jr., chairman of the special promotion committee, announced that a special plane will fly over Hope and surrounding towns and communities between 11 and 12 noon Friday, spreading leaflets which in reality are gift certificates. These leaflets, valued at $200 are redeemable in merchandise in any one of the participating stores on Saturday.

Exact time the plane will appear over your area will be announced Thursday. Everyone is urged to visit Hope Saturday and shop during the one-day sales event.

Hal Norwood Dies Today at Mena

MENA (UP)—Hal Norwood, 68, who served as attorney general of Arkansas for five terms, died early today at Polk County Memorial Hospital. He had been in failing health for the past month or six weeks, and had been in the hospital for less than a week.

Norwood was attorney general of the state more terms than any other man. He served two terms from 1909 until 1913 and three terms from 1920 to 1935.

He was born in Sevier county, but had been a citizen of Mena for the past 57 years.

He served as a state representative from Sevier county before he was 21 years of age and was elected prosecuting attorney for the district at the age of 22.

Meanwhile, Norwood was a member of the Arkansas delegation to the National Democratic Convention in 1912.

He was state director of the Federal Housing Administration in 1934, and served in the job until the late 30's.

His last public office was one term as Mena municipal judge from 1955 to 1957.

He had continued the practice of law here until the onset of his last illness.

Surviving are two sons, Raymond and Dr. Frank Norwood, daughter, Mrs. J. R. Wood of Rogers.

Funeral services are to be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at the First Methodist church here, with burial 4 p. m. at Roselawn Cemetery in Little Rock.

Hot Check Artist Arrested Here

A hot check artist was arrested here yesterday. State Policeman Travis Ward. He was listed as Jack Tyner, hometown unknown. He was turned over to Texarkana authorities who had sent out a pickup on the man.

Final Rites Today for Mrs. Turner

Final rites for Mrs. Nannie Catherine Turner, aged 80, who died Tuesday at the home of a son in Kilgore, Texas, were to be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Oakcrest Chapel by the Rev. H. C. Bennett of Kilgore. Burial by Oakcrest was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Active pallbearers: W. P. Turner, James McCullough of Kilgore, Marion Morris, Giles Foster, Buddy Crosby and Kent Light of Hope.

Judge U. G. Garrett report the Palmers road will be completed within a few weeks. Crews are staking out the unfinished part now.

Verdict Given for $2,000 Damages

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—A pulaski Circuit Court jury returned a $2,000 traffic accident verdict Tuesday in favor of 74-year-old Rev. Robert A. Bell, but found he was half responsible, which cut the damages to $1,000.

The Little Rock minister had asked for $75,000 in his suit against Miss Ruth Schnell of Alexandria, La., alleged her car struck him Oct. 22, 1956 in downtown Little Rock.

Pressure for Public Works Program High

WASHINGTON (UP)—Congressional Democrats have opened a campaign to put "terrific pressure" on the Eisenhower administration to beef up its public works program for the 12 months starting next July 1.

"We're going to make it so hot the administration will have to expand the program or face the wrath of an outraged public," Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) told the United Press.

In a related move, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) proposed today that a government agency like the former Reconstruction Finance Corp. be set up to provide capital to business firms of all sizes. In a prepared Senate speech he said such an agency would encourage competition and promote employment.

The public works campaign began after President Eisenhower's new budget advanced a reduced water resource development plan to compensate for increased defense spending.

Individual senators and congressmen issued statements lambasting the administration's policy of "barren" any new water projects for the fiscal year starting July 1. This week the organized attack began with hearings before a joint Senate Interior and Public Works Committee.

Star witness at the hearing Tuesday was Maj. Gen. E. C. Ischner, Chief of the Army Corps of Engineers, who declared the Soviet Union threatens to overtake the United States in water resource development.

Ischner said Russia has hydroelectric power projects under construction which "far exceed any American project in capacity."

There is an alternative, he said — discontinue or sharply reduce it. Anyone who wants to consider this alternative "must measure well" these consequences, the President said.

Severe dislocation and basic impairment of the power of the free world.

A certain crumbling, under Soviet pressures, of our strategic overseas positions, which would be forced back toward U.S. shores.

A "massive increase" in the defense budget, necessitating tax increases.

A heavy increase in draft quotas.

Ultimately, a beleaguered America, her freedoms limited by mounting defense costs, and almost alone in a world dominated by international communism.

$3.9 Billions Asked to Insure U. S. Security

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer
THOMASVILLE, Ga. (UP) — President Eisenhower today posed the prospect of higher taxes and heavier draft calls unless Congress approves his foreign aid program.

The chief executive, from his vacation headquarters here, sent a special message to Congress today, asking speedy action by the House and Senate "for the safety of our families."

The President in his budget for fiscal 1959 requested nearly 4 billion dollars for his mutual security program.

He warned the Congress today in a sharply worded message that failure to enact his program might lead to a highly difficult situation with the Soviet Union.

"Only Logical Course"
Without the foreign aid program, the President said there might be "a severe dislocation and basic impairment of free world power."

Eisenhower told Congress "it is my duty to make clear my profound conviction that the vigorous advancement of this program is our logical course."

Without the mutual security appropriation, the President said there would be "a certain crumbling under Sino-Soviet pressure" of the strategic position of the United States.

Eisenhower also foresaw those other possibilities:

"A massive increase in our own defense budget, in amounts far exceeding mutual security appropriations, necessitating increases in taxes.

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (UP) — President Eisenhower today asked Congress for $3,942,000,000 for foreign aid and warned that failing to do so would "leave the United States standing almost alone in a world dominated by international communism."

From his vacation headquarters here, the chief executive sent a special message to Congress asking speedy action on the request for nearly four billion dollars for the fiscal year beginning next June 30.

"It is my duty to make clear my profound conviction that the vigorous advancement of this program is our only logical course," Eisenhower said.

Egypt, Sudan in a Border Dispute

By WILLIAM J. FOX
United Press Staff Correspondent

Egypt and the Sunday rushed troops, political commissars and armed police to a disputed border area today in a new Middle East incident denounced by the British press as a "land grab" by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

A statement issued in Khartoum, capital of the 2-year-old Sudanese republic, accused Egypt of trying to bring the mineral-rich border areas into the new Syrian-Egyptian Republic and settle by force Egypt's claim to a larger share of the waters of the Nile.

A communique issued today in Cairo said Sudanese forces had moved into an Egyptian border area in "flagrant violation" of an 1899 treaty and of Egyptian sovereignty. It asked for a peaceful settlement, called for withdrawal of the troops and denied Sudanese charges Egypt wanted the valuable mineral resources.

Rival elections on both sides of the border brought to a fiery head the long-standing border dispute. Sunday is holding general elections on Feb. 27. Egypt is holding a plebiscite Feb. 21 on setting up the United Arab Republic with Syria.

The dispute was so serious Sudanese Premier Abdullah Khalil dispatched Foreign Minister Mohammed Mahgoub to Cairo, 1,000 miles away, today to try to reach a settlement. Khalil tried to reach Nasser by telephone Monday but was told he was busy.

L. R. May Purchase a 'Drunkometer'

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Little Rock City Manager Board will consider buying a drunkometer when it meets again March 3.

City Traffic Judge R. W. Laster asked for the meter Monday night, explaining court costs could be increased from $1 to $5 to pay for the machine and for radar equipment to catch speeders.

He has made several public speeches recently urging the city to buy the meter. The board put an ordinance authorizing its purchase on the calendar for second reading at the next meeting.

Dr. Mason G. Lawson, the city health officer, told the board the city dog pound is in a bad state of repair, so much so that it is difficult to keep dogs in it.

The board passed an ordinance raising the dog license fee from $2 to $3 on the calendar for second reading, along with another ordinance which would require property owners outside the city to put up a bond for fire protection.

Prisoners Charge Papers Changed

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Three Pulaski county men in an appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court Monday charged their commitment papers were changed after they began their sentences.

The three, convicted of grand larceny, are Thomas Williams, Joe Standridge, and James Deaton. The first two were sentenced to five years in prison for theft of a car in 1936, and Deaton was sentenced to three years.

They alleged after they began the grand larceny sentences Pulaski Circuit Judge William J. Kirby revoked an order allowing them to serve the sentences at the same time they were in prison under other convictions. Then, they said, the judge added the grand larceny sentences to the others.

GM Dollars Up, Profits Down

NEW YORK (UP)—General Motors Corp. upped its dollar sales in 1937 but its profit margin dipped and it lost its title as the nation's best corporate earner, the firm's financial report showed today.

General Motors' 1937 earnings or net income was $94,592,433, while American Telephone & Telegraph, parent company of the Bell Telephone System, earned $92,304,378.

In 1936, GM had earned $84,396,102 to AT&T $77,791,083. GM's earnings record was $1,189,477,082 in 1935.

Dollar sales in 1937 totaled $10,989,813,178, topping 1936 net sales by 193 million dollars but nearly $1,500,000,000 less than 1935 sales.

RAW GASOLINE SQUEEZED

BATON ROUGE, La. (UP)—A manufacturing firm announced Monday it has developed a device to obtain raw gasoline from a stream of natural gas. It said the process should make "millions of dollars" for gas producers. The Delta Tank manufacturing Co., Inc., said its device demonstrated its ability to "squeeze out raw gasoline" in tests conducted recently in Texas.

EARN SILVER MEDAL

ROME (UP)—Professor Joseph Tusiani of Columbia University Monday night won second prize in a contest for a Latin language poem. Tusiani was the only Italian among the winners of the contest sponsored by the Italian Ministry of Education. Aged 30, he is a native of the town of San Giovanni Lupatoto in the south of Rome. His poem, "The Death of the Poet," was published in the "Rivista di Lettere" in Rome.

Turncoat Is Hijacker of Korean Plane

SEOUL (UP)—South Korean Home Minister Lee Keun Jik said today a one-time turncoat fled the North Korean Army engineered the international hijacking of a Korean airliner with 34 persons aboard.

The North Korean Red Cross ignored a plea by the International Red Cross to help return any of the passengers taken to North Korea against their will, including two Americans and two Germans.

Mrs. Willis Hobbs, wife of the plane's American pilot, flew from Hong Kong to Korea with her two small children today in hopes her husband would be released.

Home Minister Lee said a police investigation indicated seven persons aboard the Korean National Airlines DC-3 were involved in the plot to fly to North Korea.

Lee said investigators "obtained material evidence" that the plot was headed by a former North Korean soldier named Kim Kyung.

He said Kim, 35, had escaped to South Korea in 1951 during the Korean war. He was listed on the plane's manifest as a businessman and police said he had been engaged in a clothing establishment in Taegu but had been unemployed for several months.

Investigators said Kim apparently was ordered to steal the plane by a North Korean espionage agent identified only as Kang. They said Kang was believed to have masterminded the plot but was not on the plane. Kang and Kim were school mates in North Korea.

Communist newsmen at Tuesday's meeting of the mistle commission in Panmunjom indicated that violence might have occurred before the plane bypassed its Seoul destination and flew into North Korea. They told non-Communist reporters some persons aboard needed medical attention when the plane landed.

To Excavate French Fort Near DeWitt

DE WITT (UP)—Excavation of what apparently is a 275-year-old French fort near here is to start early next month.

Dr. James Ford, associate curator of archeology of the American Museum of Natural History, and Robert S. Neitzel, ex-employee of the Louisiana parks commission, are to supervise the work.

Preliminary study indicates the site is where Henri De Toni, a French explorer, built a fort in 1683. De Toni was a lieutenant under explorer de La Salle.

Neitzel was dismissed by the Louisiana parks commission last June in an economy move, along with several other employees. The firing was upheld by the state civil service commission but the state Supreme Court directed that the employees be given another hearing on technical grounds.

Medical, Insurance Groups to Meet

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—A meeting is scheduled Feb. 27 between an Arkansas Medical Association committee and the state insurance commissioner to discuss health insurance.

Commissioner J. Harvey Combs said the meeting had been scheduled last week, but was postponed last because he was ill and then because the committee could not get together.

The AMA committee, in a conference with Gov. Orval Faubus recently, charged that some insurance companies were misrepresenting health policies.

Dr. Sam G. Jameson of El Dorado is chairman of the committee.

Girls' School May Get New Parole Plan

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The board of managers of the Arkansas Training School for Girls is studying a new parole agreement to be used when juveniles are released ahead of their sentence.

Attorney General Bruce Bennett's staff prepared the new agreement at the request of Mrs. Marjorie W. Crabaugh, the board secretary.

"We want a new parole agreement drawn up which will give child welfare (the state welfare department) supervision for the part of the time the girl is under their care and yet does not release her completely from ours," Mrs. Crabaugh explained.

The agreement recommended provides that the girls "recognize" the worker assigned by the state or county welfare department as the representative of a school, and requires the girls to mail monthly progress reports to the school. It contains provisions similar to the old agreement requiring them to maintain a "decent standard of living" by wearing proper clothes, opening savings accounts, and so on.

ROSSELLINI TO CHINA
LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UP)—Italian movie director Roberto Rossellini said Monday night he plans to travel to India for about two months and then hopes to go to Communist China to shoot a documentary film.

Withdrawing of all French troops and to take in the entire question of the Algerian rebellion.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in love with a soldier. I have never met him. He's stationed in Japan and we've been waiting for two months. I have heard rumors that he has a Japanese wife, though he denies it. He wants to become engaged to me. What shall I do? HOLLY.

Dear Holly: And for things like this, postage stamps were invented. Lose the soldier's address. Holly go out with boys your own age, who are available, at least. They may not have the glamor of far off places, but one guy on the dance floor is worth two in Japan. You have three strikes against you—the boy's far away, you've only known him two months, and you've never met him. Give up.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Last night I dreamed someone killed my husband. Do you think this dream will come true? IMOGENE.

Dear Imogene: The interpretation of dreams is out of my line. This is a psychiatrist's job. I do know, though, that dreams usually go by opposites. Stop worrying about it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Through our church group of young people I have met a very nice boy. My parents like him but object to my dating him as they say he's too old for me. I'm 14, he's 19. Should I give in to my mother and stop seeing him or ate him against my wishes? DISCOURAGED.

Dear Discouraged: Don't even consider secret dating. I'm sure both of you being good church members, know how wrong it would be.

DOROTHY DIX

He Works Overtime On Office Romance

Dear Dorothy Dix: We've been a very happy and close family for 16 years. Then a year ago my husband hired a girl in his office. She made the first advances, but he didn't lag far behind and soon they were involved in a full fledged affair. When I found out about it, he confessed to me. He said he'd like one more date with the girl, then he'd fire her and the affair would be over. I agreed. When he left I had no clue as to what his decision would be. He was gone for three hours; when he returned he said he had done what he promised and the affair was over. Perhaps if I had screamed, had hysterics or tried to prevent him from seeing her, things might have been different. My present worry is: Will I be able to trust him now? Should I leave him or wait and hope that the affair really is a thing of the past? How shall I treat him? Drop the past and stop asking questions? FRANK J.

Dear Frank: If your husband is an average male, he thinks he's done a noble deed by ending the affair, that you're a lucky woman to have him back, and that he will never, never hear a word about his defection from you. If you want to preserve your home and keep him from the other woman's arms, play up to his dreams. Treat him with more warmth and affection than you've ever showed before, pretend you've entirely forgotten the affair, don't ever refer to it, and in time, he'll forget too. For a while it will seem impossible for you to trust him, but that feeling too will pass. If he remains faithful, as he undoubtedly will, Extramarital affairs may seem thrilling and romantic — until they are exposed. Then a man realizes that what he thought was exciting was actually just sordid. Have faith in your marriage. You have the stuff to pull it through.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in love with a soldier. I have never met him. He's stationed in Japan and we've been waiting for two months. I have heard rumors that he has a Japanese wife, though he denies it. He wants to become engaged to me. What shall I do? HOLLY.

ed to explore thoroughly Katzenbach's affidavit, in which he said a friend told him Gordon Moore, husband of Mrs. Eisenhower's sister, "was engineering this application for National Airlines."

On the economic scene, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) proposed setting up a new government lending agency to encourage competition and promote full employment. The agency would be similar to the Reconstruction Finance Corp. which was born during the Depression.

Kefauver, in a prepared Senate speech, said the steel and auto industries showed the extent to which a "philosophy of higher prices in the face of lower production has insinuated itself into the American economy."

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger said he is no longer opposed to an increase in postal rates because there is an urgent need of pay raises for post office and other government workers. He said a five-cent first class mail rate also could finance new post office construction.

In other congressional news: Appropriations: The House approved under the remains of last year's economy drive by passing the first major money bill of the session practically intact. The bill contains $113,145,000 to run the Interior Department and related agencies.

McDonald: The Senate Permanent Investigation Subcommittee asked defense officials to determine whether former Deputy Asst. Defense Secretary Robert A. McDonald owes the government some money. Investigators said that during an eight months period McDonald was absent about two-thirds of the time.

Satellites: House Appropriations subcommittee testimony revealed scientists are hoping to see 21 earth satellites in the sky by the end of the year. The scientists want funds to track that number expected to be fired aloft by the United States and Russia.

Public Works: Congressional Democrats opened a drive to put "terrific pressure" on the administration to give the economy a shot in the arm with a beefed up public works program starting in July.

WASHINGTON (UP)—House investigators today summoned a key witness who claims a relative of Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower "engineered" the government's award of a Miami television channel to National Airlines.

The witness, A. Frank Katzenbach of Miami, also has charged in an affidavit that FCC Commissioner, I. C. Howard A. Mack "pledged" his vote in advance of the award to this affiliate. Mack has been accused of accepting $2,650 from Thurman A. Whiteside, a lawyer representing the affiliate in the contested TV case before the Federal Communications Commission.

Katzenbach faced some searching questions by the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight about his own conduct as an unsuccessful applicant in the highly disputed contest over Miami's Channel 10.

Airline Director Testifies
Attorney Paul T. Scott, director of National Airlines, testified Tuesday, Katzenbach was "using blackmail" to get Whiteside to withdraw from the case. Scott also said Sen. Spencer L. Holland (D-Fla.) had spoken to Mack on Katzenbach's behalf. Holland had no immediate comment on Scott's statement.

Church Bells Mark End of Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Church bells sounding the midnight hour marked the end of Mardi Gras in New Orleans Tuesday night and the beginning of Ash Wednesday and 40 solemn days of Lent.

A litter of beer cans, crumpled glass beads and other debris lay in the streets and sidewalks of New Orleans as many worshippers passed on their way to early church services.

Historic St. Louis Cathedral, in the heart of the French Quarter, was the site of early Masses, as Roman Catholic priests placed ashes on the foreheads of worshippers to remind them that life is fleeting.

Rex—the Lord of Misrule—ended the Mardi Gras celebration at the stroke of midnight with a campaign toast to the Queen of Camus.

But Rex had his day. Laughter and gaiety and a sunny sky greeted him as his parade passed by an estimated one million people in the downtown area.

Rex—in real life oilman-lawyer Joseph Merriek Jones — grazed down on a sea of faces bathed in the warming sunshine as the spirited procession of bright, colorful floats passed by.

The Rex parade depicted stories by Anna Christian Anderson. But the first parade of the day was the Zulu parade — sporting the other regal processions with a "my kingdom is all shook up" theme.

The Zulus proceeded to shake up the whole town with their antics. A near fistfight developed at one spot. A grandstand full of well wishers almost collapsed at another.

The parades, though, were not the only things spirited. New Orleans police reported six shootings—with wounds varying from eridient to superficial—knife fights and the usual arguments ending in fights.

Crowns of all colors, sizes, and shapes paraded down the crowded streets. Other persons were dressed as gorillas, Apache dancers, convicts, and cowboys and Indians.

Many spectators started the day dressed in overcoats with the collars turned up. As the sun began to warm the scene, the crowd began peeling off layers of clothe.

When to Fish or Hunt

SOLUNAR TABLES
by John Allen Knight

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Allen Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times. If you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter.
The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

What Happened to Harland Cliff

HAROLD CLIFF
BY UNITED PRESS

Harland Cliff, who spent most of his 12 year major league career with the St. Louis Browns, was such a fine baseball player that arguments raged annually over whether he or Red Rolfe of the Yankees was the best in the league. In 1938, he set a home run record for third basemen with 36 and throughout his career remained a phenomenal fielder. After 10 years with the Browns, he was traded to Washington in 1948 and missed something he'd truly earned — a place on the 1944 pennant winners of the Browns. He retired after the '45 season.

Whatever happened to Harland
Cliff today, now 45, he is a successful anchor at Selah, Wash., and his 20-year-old son, Harland, Jr., is listed as a pitcher by Memphis in the Southern Association in only his second year as a pro.

Russell Is Now Rebounding Champ

BY UNITED PRESS

Clue-fingered Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics is the new rebound champion of the National Basketball Association.

The six-foot, 10-inch Celtic center shattered the single season record for most rebounds while helping Boston to a 113-111 victory over the New York Knickerbockers Tuesday night.

Russell grabbed 22 rebounds against the Knicks to increase his total to 1,280 in 58 games this season.
Maurice Stokes of Cincinnati set the old record with Rochester when he totaled 1,250 in 70 games last season.

A 48-point performance by George Yardley helped the Detroit Pistons snap a three-game home losing streak with a 120-98 victory over the Syracuse Naughton Monday night.

SUGAR GOES FOUR ROUNDS

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y. (UP)—Ray Robinson, forced indoors because of extremely cold weather, boxed four rounds Tuesday in preparation for his March attempt to regain the middleweight championship from Carmen Basilio.

Although he sat out practically the entire last quarter, Bob Paul kicked 33 points in leading the St.
Louis Hawks to a 116-95 win over the Minneapolis Lakers.
